Covid may be entering endemic stage, says WHO chief scientist.

PRESSTREETS OF INDIA

COVID-19 IN INDIA may be entering some stage of endemicity: Senior WHO scientist, Dr. Sylvan Sorwood, said that there are now indications that the disease may be entering a phase where it is no longer spreading at an exponential rate. This is based on a number of factors, including the declining hospitalization rates, the improving public health measures, and the widespread vaccination efforts. However, the WHO emphasized that efforts to control the virus must continue, as the disease could still return in a more severe form. Dr. Sorwood urged countries to remain vigilant and maintain their public health measures, including vaccination, to prevent a potential resurgence.

Domestic natural gas output rises over 1.8% in July

India’s natural gas output rose by 1.8% in July compared to the same month in the previous year. This is the highest monthly growth in the last four years, according to the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas. The growth in output is attributed to the increase in production from the six major gas fields - Sasan gas field, Ambedkar gas field, Barmer gas field, Surat gas field, DMS gas field, and Velsi gas field. The Ministry also noted that the production of LNG (liquefied natural gas) from the Krishna-Godavari basin has also increased significantly.

Vaccine exports may resume in 2022: Official

INDIA WILL PERHAPS start exporting Covid-19 vaccines next year as its inoculation drive nears completion, the head of an influential government expert panel has said. India is currently vaccinating about 40% of its population.

The panel head, Dr. Harsh Vardhan, said that the country has the capacity to produce and export vaccines, and that the government is considering allowing exports of vaccines that are not in significant demand in India. The panel is also discussing the possibility of exporting surplus vaccines that are not needed by the Indian population.

The government is likely to allow exports of vaccines from the country in stages, with the first batch of vaccines expected to be exported in the first half of 2022. The government is also considering allowing exports of vaccines that are not in significant demand in India.

Domestic natural gas production increased 14.8% to 2.071 billion standard cubic meters (bcms) in July on-year, as higher production from Reliance Industries Ltd’s and BP’s ultra-deep-water field in the KG-D6 Block of the Krishna Godavari basin on the east coast.

The output in July was 5.1% up to 28.561 million metric tonnes (MMMT) in a year.

The indigenous natural gas production in July was up to about 54% of the country’s requirements in the month. The import of liquefied natural gas (LNG) was 3.23 bcm in July, 14.9% lower than the corresponding month of the previous year.

The value of LNG import in July at $5.9 billion was, however, 38% higher annually. To increase indigenous recovery from its 4.5 bcm producing fields across Gujarat, Assam, Tamil Nadu and Andhra Pradesh, the government is likely to consider using measures such as allowing the import of LNG from overseas and allowing the export of LNG from overseas.

The current price cap is at $3.64/Mt. Around 39% of the country’s crude oil requirements have been imported. The current price cap is at $3.64/Mt.
